Highlighting — Senior Center Without Walls

This is a national program offering activities, education, friendly conversation, classes and support groups to older adults. Groups are available online or by phone. Play a game, write a poem, go on a virtual tour, meditate, share a gratitude, get support and most importantly, connect and engage with others every day from across the country.

SCWW programs are free and accessible to vision-impaired and blind participants. Their materials are available in large print, Braille and audio formats. You can find their program catalog online.

SCWW currently serves people from 29 states. They are a part of Episcopal Senior Communities.

CTBL will be closed on the following days in 2017:
September 4th, November 23rd and 24th,
December 25th and 26th, and January 1st

From the Director

We have had another staff change in the Reader Advisor Librarian position. Anne Alderete left us in July for a job in New Mexico. She will be closer to her family as she starts one of her own.

We are pleased to welcome Megan Blinov to the Colorado Talking Book Library as a reader advisor librarian on August 7th. She comes to us from the Texas Talking Book Library where she has been a reader advisor librarian for over 4 years. She received her MLIS from Drexel University and holds and MA in Heritage Resources from Northwestern State University of Louisiana. She is an avid outdoors person, rides her bike to work and has two dogs.

Check out the Friends of CTBL Facebook page or follow on Twitter.

The End of an Era — Circulation of Cassettes Ends January 1st

On January 1, 2018 CTBL will no longer circulate cassettes. NLS has obsoleted the cassette machines and there are very few parts available to keep them running. NLS has also completed the conversion process of any RC book that can be transferred to digital. So all of your old RC favorites should be available on cartridge. Given this, we felt it was time to end circulation of the RC's.

If you have not made the transition to digital, please let the reader advisor librarians know and we will get you a digital player and books.

If you have a cassette machine and books that you no longer need, please return them back to the library.

Wanted — Finished reading your books & magazines?

Please send them back when you have finished reading. Other patrons may be waiting to read those titles. And for the newsletters and magazines the cartridges need to be reused.

CTBL Reads — To Race the Wind: An Autobiography

Author: Harold Krents ** Narrator: Fred Major

Time: 8 hours 18 minutes

Recollections of a former Harvard law student who is blind. Krents fell in love, graduated with honors, and passed the New York State bar exam. Recalls childhood loneliness and being taunted in public school. Credits family support for his perseverance. His experiences inspired the popular play and movie Butterflies Are Free. 1972.

DB053815 The regular participants of the CTBL Reads group selected this title.

CTBL Reads begins September 11th and the book talk is October 19th at 3 p.m.

Call the library to sign up, have a copy of the book sent to you and get on the list for the book talk, phone number and passcode.

Patron Stories

Here at CTBL we are always interested in hearing your stories. If you would like to share your CTBL experience with others, feel free to email or snail mail your stories. We would use them on our website, in social media or in our mailings. We would only use first names to protect your privacy. If you would like to share a video for the CTBL YouTube channel, we would love that.

You can check it out here: <http://bit.ly/CTBLYouTube>

Tech Talk — Turnaround Service

CTBL uses a turnaround service to send books out to our patrons. The turnaround system works in the following way:

Patrons are assigned a maximum number of books that will be sent out to them.

- This number includes books in the mail going to the patron or coming back to the library and books in the patron's home.
- We usually start patrons with a 5 book maximum. This number can be adjusted to anywhere from 1 - 20 books depending on how fast the patron reads and the mail service in their area.
- The computer checks the each patrons' account nightly to see if the number of books they have checked out is below their maximum number. If the number out is less than the maximum, the computer will assign books to the patron. If not, nothing is done on that account.
- We can also adjust the shipment size (how many books are sent out at one time) to anywhere from 1 - 20.

Example — Jane has a maximum of 10 books on her account. Her account is set to only replace books 1 at a time. Jane returns 5 books on the same day. The computer checks her account and sees she only has 5 books out, but has a maximum of 10 set. The computer will send 1 book a day for 5 days to get her account back to the maximum of 10. Jane could also choose to have her books replaced at a faster rate by changing her shipment size to a number higher than 1.

The maximum number only works with the computer and the nightly selection system. A reader advisor can override that number to send you an additional books — up to the library cap of 20 — if you find yourself short of books.

If you are having problems with the number of books you receive, please call the library and speak with a reader advisor to adjust your maximum book number.

BARD Express

BARD Express simplifies the process of downloading and transferring audio books from BARD to cartridge. BARD Express is a Windows-based application. The major advantage is that BARD Express unzips and transfers the files to a cartridge for you with the click of a button. It is available from NLS and is free.

Online Databases @ www.myCTBL.org

We have databased that patrons can access from your computer. You will need your patron number to access them. A highlight of the individual databases available is: Consumer Health Complete — provides convenient access to easily understandable health and medical information. Consumers can search and browse within medical encyclopedias, popular reference books, and magazine articles.

For more information and to explore these databases and how to access them in detail, please go to:

How to Organize Your Home to Accommodate Visual Impairment

You need to consider organization as people with low or no vision are more confident and independent when they can find their way around and locate items they want and need quickly and easily. Below are two tips from Jackie Waters on how to organize to make it more accessible.

Drawers

Draw organizers are handy tools that you can place in drawers of nearly any size and group similar items together. Organizers for silverware and kitchen tool drawers are especially important for keeping people safe from wayward knives, peelers, and other sharp instruments. If you want to save some money, use containers such as short PVC pipes, discarded shoe boxes and Q-Tip holders, and mason jars to hold small objects in your drawers.

Magazine list is available on request.

Closets

People with visual impairment struggle to match clothes and put together outfits. Proper closet organization helps to locate clothing items and get dressed in no time. Installing tension rods and sliding or folding racks beneath traditional hanger rods makes it possible to place pants, skirts, shorts, belts, and other pieces of clothing directly beneath matching tops. Or, you can put dividers between hangers and place coordinated outfits in a row in the closet; some people hang seven outfits at a time so they have clothing ready for the entire week.

Other people with visual impairment organize clothing in closets and dressers by color. A consistent clothes organization system such as this makes it possible for people to mix and match outfits because they easily can find clothing items and pair them together.

Stay tuned for two more tips in our next newsletter.

Volunteers — As Big as an Iceberg

The CTBL volunteer corps is like an iceberg with about 90% of their work beneath the surface. When most people refer to our volunteers they usually think of the narrators who record books, magazines, and other material for our collection. We are very proud of the well-trained narrators we have at CTBL. You could say they are above sea-level on our iceberg.

But, look carefully and it is easy to see that just below the surface are many other volunteers supporting their work. There are the reviewers, monitors, and editors who ensure that the books are recorded accurately, catching and correcting even those minor errors and glitches.

Volunteers continued from page 7

Then there are the volunteers who work in cataloguing to give each book a correct description and subject codes making it possible to search and find the right books. It can be difficult and time-consuming. Speaking of time, the RUB detectives are busy listening to a select group of books to find incidents of violence, strong language, or other offensive material to be indicated in the catalog record.

Not a single book would ever leave our building if it weren't for the team working in our mailroom. They process more than a thousand books and machines every day, inspecting each incoming piece, pulling and addressing every outgoing piece. Some help inventory every shelf looking for misplaced books. When a book is hot, the duplication team jumps in and makes sure available copies can be ordered from any computer day or night.

You see, it takes a lot of people to keep things afloat at CTBL and we are always ready to find room for one more qualified person to join our crew.

If you are interested in volunteering for CTBL, visit our website at www.myctbl.org and complete the Volunteer Application found on the volunteer page.

Legacy Gifts

Legacy gifts to the Friends of CTBL are a vital way to ensure ongoing support for all the services the library provides to patrons. The Friends have established Eyes to the Future that honors and recognizes the generosity and vision of patrons, families and friends who have chosen to leave a legacy through their estates or other deferred gifts.

We invite you to become a member of Eyes to the Future. Enrollment in this honorary group is simply a matter of advising us about your plans to make a legacy gift, such as a bequest in a will or living trust, or designating The Friends of CTBL as beneficiary of an individual retirement plan, 401k or life insurance policy. The Friends of CTBL is a public 501 c 3 charity and the tax ID is 23-7243950.

Contributions to The Friends of the Colorado Talking Book Library and The Colorado Talking Book Library

An additional way to contribute to either the Friends or to CTBL is through a charitable bequest as part of a will or through life insurance. You do not have to rewrite your current document but can add a written amendment called a codicil. Such a bequest only becomes irrevocable at your death. Giving to the library helps support the programs and service we provide to our patrons and helps to secure the future.

AmazonSmile

The AmazonSmile Foundation donates 0.5% of the purchase price of eligible products to charitable organizations. If you make purchases through Amazon, try AmazonSmile and designate The Friends of CTBL as a recipient of charitable donations. Several patrons have already done this. Thanks!
