Application for Individuals Seeking Free Library Service

National Library Service for the Blind and Print Disabled (NLS) at the Library of Congress is a free braille and talking book library service for people with temporary or permanent low vision, blindness, or a physical or reading disability that prevents them from using regular print materials. Through a national network of cooperating libraries, NLS circulates books and magazines in braille or audio formats, that are instantly downloadable to a personal device or delivered by mail free of charge.

Please complete this application and submit to the library serving blind and print disabled individuals in your state. To find your local cooperating library, go to www.loc.gov/nls/find-your-library or call 888-NLS-READ (888-657-7323). The application may be sent by email, fax, printed and mailed, or printed and hand delivered.

Eligibility of Blind and Other Print-Disabled Persons for Loan of Library Materials

The following people are eligible for service: residents of the United States, including territories, insular possessions, and the District of Columbia, and American citizens living abroad, provided they meet one of the following criteria:

1. An individual who is blind or has a visual impairment that makes them unable to comfortably read print books.
2. An individual who has a perceptual or reading disability.
3. An individual who has a physical disability that makes it hard to hold or manipulate a book or to focus or move the eyes as needed to read a print book.

Please see <http://www.loc.gov/nls/how-to-enroll/apply-for-nls-services> for the full eligibility information.

Reader Preferences

Once your application is received and approved, a Reader Advisor from your local cooperating library will contact you to discuss your preferences, such how you would like to receive material, and to help set up your reader profile. You may choose to receive only the books that you specifically request, OR you can have titles automatically selected for you based on your interests. You may also subscribe to a wide range of magazines available in both braille and audio formats.

Use of Government Property: NLS program equipment, materials, and products, both online and physical, are federal property. Users shall acknowledge the purpose for which these items were intended and accept responsibility for accessing these items. All materials and equipment (including digital talking book cartridges, hard copy braille, players, and accessories) must be returned when no longer needed.

Personal Information: Personal information is confidential except for those portions defined by law as public information. To learn what information provided on this application form may be released to other individuals, institutions, or agencies, please consult the agency to which you are submitting this application.

Veterans: Persons who are blind or have a print disability who have been honorably discharged from the United States military receive preference in the lending of books, recordings, playback equipment, musical scores, instructional texts, and specialized materials (Public Law 89-522).

Check here if you were honorably discharged from the United States military.

BARD (Braille and Audio Reading Download) is an online, password-protected service that provides access to hundreds of thousands of audio and braille books, magazines, and music scores available from NLS. The service is available as an application on a Mac or Windows computer or on an iOS or Android mobile device. The mobile application, known as BARD Mobile, includes built-in playback features so you can enjoy talking books anytime, anywhere. BARD Express allows you to play talking books on a Windows computer.
